Be part of the conversation shaping North America's future! We're excited to invite you to the 2025 NASCO Continental Reunion in Fort Worth, Texas, where business and political leaders from the U.S., Canada, and Mexico will gather to discuss strategies for stronger cross-border partnerships and economic growth.

Challenges such as shifting trade policies, supply chain disruptions, and now the economic uncertainties and hardship of tariffs seriously and imminently threaten this success. Now more than ever, to preserve and strengthen what we've built, our nations must collaborate, embrace fair trade practices and invest in infrastructure, technology and workforce development.

The NASCO "Continental Reunion" stands out as a one-of-a-kind event, rotating annually between Canada, the United States, and Mexico, uniting top political and business leaders from all three nations. This dynamic gathering sparks powerful conversations on key challenges and groundbreaking opportunities for deeper collaboration, economic growth, and cross-border partnerships—while delivering bold insights into the evolving landscape of trade and transportation across North America.
